

The Benefits of a Private & Competitive Health Care System – Transcription

Individual decisions when it comes to health care are very important. As we start to see transparency pricing in the medical industry, you are going to be able to go out and compare prices and quality of care for any medical procedure that you may need. Wouldn't it be nice to be able to go out and get that perfect surgery done at a competitive rate by a super-qualified doctor?

You don't want the bureaucrats making these types of decisions for you. This is something that should be made by each individual person. For example, in Canada, one of the problems that they have is rationed health care. It has been known to take up to 6 weeks for a person to be able to get into a doctor to have an MRI done on an injury. There is no way that we should be having that in the United States. If you are willing to pay a premium you should be able to get into a doctor when you want. If the government comes in and takes control, we are no longer going to have the individual decisions on who our doctor may be and what price we want to pay for medical care.

If we have the transparent pricing system that we should have, it will drive down the cost of health care, which is what we need.
